

Jean-Michel Maguin

Jean-Michel worked hard from the outset and was well prepared for all his exercises. An assertive and positive individual, his workload management improved steadily with his knowledge and skills. He quickly grasped the SOPs and applied them effectively and consistently. His teamwork skills went from strength to strength and he provided very good support and advice to his partner. By the end of the course Jean-Michel was being assessed as above average for assertiveness and team skills, he shows good potential for the future and should make a successful professional pilot.
